OHIO COUNTY TEACHERS
IN INSTITUTE SESSION

Large Number in Attendance and a Very Interesting Meeting.

The Ohio County Teachers' Institute met in annual session in court hall on Monday, Aug. 28, 1911.

On account of the incessant rain, but few teachers were able to get to town in the forenoon and on this account the institute was not called together until the afternoon.

At 1 p. m. the Institute assembled ready for work. Devotional exercises were conducted in a very impressive manner by Rev. J. W. Bruner. Song service led by Prof. Otis Carson.

Hon. C. M. Crowe, on the part of the citizens of Hartford, in a very entertaining manner, delivered the welcome address, which was followed by a response in behalf of the teachers by Prof. Ozna Shultz.

Supt. Leach is chairman of the body and Miss Annie Eliza Keown was unanimously chosen secretary.

Dr. Fred Mutchler, of Bowling Green, is present as instructor, and is giving some forceful addresses, chiefly along the lines of practical and scientific agriculture.

To-night Dr. Mutchler is to deliver an address to which the public, and especially the farmers, are invited, upon the subject: "Reclamation of the Soil." He merits and should have a full house.

On Thursday night an entertainment will be given by the citizens of Hartford.

Memorial exercises were held last night in honor of Prof. Wayland Alexander, Prof. John C. Barnard, J. W. Petty and Clayton Rhoads.
Judge J. S. Glenn spoke in behalf of Dr. Alexander, Ernest Woodward for Prof. Barnard, Guy S. Hazelrigg for Clayton Rhoads and Prof. Ozna Shultz in behalf of J. W. Petty.

The Institute adjourned at noon yesterday and attended the funeral of Prof. Alexander in a body.

There will be a ball game played at the local grounds to-morrow (Thursday) afternoon between a picked nine of the teachers and the Hartford first team.

From the attendance and interest manifested, as well as the superior ability of the instructor, this promises to be one of the best Institutes ever held in the county.

DEATH OF OLD EDUCATOR.
DR. WAYLAND ALEXANDER

The sad news was passed around Hartford early Monday morning that Dr. Wayland Alexander was dead, having passed away a few hours before at his residence in East Hartford. Carcinoma of the liver is the technical name of the disease which carried him away.
For many months he had been in failing health, yet he took part in the teachers' institute held here just a year ago. At the last he was in a helpless and pitiable condition, scarcely knowing anything or anybody and not being able to lie down at all. The most careful nursing failed to revive his waning energies, and all his loving kindred could do was to watch and wait for the end.

It is hard in a few brief sentences to chronicle the career and death of a man like Dr. Alexander. As for his life, it could be made to fill a volume and yet the half of the goodness and worth of it would not be told. A man of the most lovable and affectionate disposition, a person could hardly come into his presence without a thrill of admiration and respect. But it was in the schoolroom where the brilliancy of his intellect and the tenderness of his heart shone with the best effect. Every student loved him.
They couldn't help it. It was his to sway the student body with a personality that compelled obedience for the very love of it. No educator in this section of Kentucky ever had a wider influence nor could claim a larger number of bright young men and women as the product of his schoolroom, passed out fully equipped for the trials and vicissitudes of life. Hundreds of these people now occupy prominent positions on life's stage and can trace their early and latest teaching to the noble and tireless Professor whose death we now mourn. The worth of their lives pays constant tribute to his matchless genius.

Dr. Alexander had taught at South Carrollton, Owensboro and other places, but it was in our own city, in the memorable days of Hartford College, when he perhaps won his greatest distinction as President of the institution and a teacher of renown. He was 72 years old at the time of his death and leaves a wife and daughter, Mrs. E. L. Miller, of Chicago, two brothers and several nieces, nephews and grandchildren.

Touching obsequies were held at the Presbyterian church here yesterday afternoon, the services being conducted by Revs. J. T.
Rushing, of Louisville, and O. M.
Shultz, of Livermore, two former students of the dead Professor. The interment followed at Oakwood cemetery and the Ohio County Teachers' Institute, in session here, marched to the grave in a body as a fitting tribute to the deceased veteran teacher. Quite a number of people from out of town were present.
It was a touching funeral and every feature of it bore evidence of the high esteem and loving regard in which was held the noble christian soul who has passed to his long home, fully prepared to enjoy the reward of a faithful, well spent life —faithful to the Master and full of good deeds towards his fellowman.

TO TAKE THE TELEPHONE
EXCHANGE OUT OF CALHOON

It is announced that on September 1, the Cumberland Telephone & Telegraph Company will remove its exchange and all its telephone material from the city of Calhoon, McLean county, leaving the town without any means of communication with the outside world except by the way of the United States mail.
This action followed the demand of the City Council of Calhoon that the telephone company pay the city an occupation tax of $100 per annum.
This the Cumberland people refused to do, alleging that it was an unjust tax and that in no other city or town in the United States were they compelled to pay it.

Following their refusal to "come across" they were given notice to remove their property from the city of Calhoon. This they agreed to do and named September 1 as the time for the removal. At the last term of special court in session at Calhoon, last week, the Cumberland Company sought an injunction against the city to prevent it from prosecuting them for failure to pay the tax demanded by the town trustees. Judge Birkhead has the case under advisement.

FINE VEIN OF OIL FOUND NOT FAR FROM HARTFORD

While drilling a well on the Hartford and Hardinsburg road, about three miles from Barrett's Ferry and a mile from Sulphur Springs, Mr. E. F. Cook struck a fine and strong vein of oil. The oil was struck about 18 feet below the surface and affords a constant flow.
Mr. Cook brought a specimen of the oil to town Saturday and exhibited it at The Herald office and elsewhere.
This is the third vein of oil that has been struck in this vicinity within a small radius in the last few years.

There can be little doubt that there is oil in Ohio county and plenty of it. If it can only be located, it constitutes a mass of hidden wealth that is destined at an early day to be immensely profitable to those who own the land through whose rocks it courses. It only lies ready to be worked out and placed upon the market. Recent investigations of prospectors give every assurance that it will not be long until oil well drills will be pounding in several sections of the county.
